

PHNS 801 : Neuroscience for Graduate Students

The major components of the course are didactic lectures, clinical case discussions, small group practical sessions, and online activities, as well as directed self-study and monitored activities.

Core Course

Credits 5