

Acclaimed Academic Partnerships

- Students who enroll in a University joint-degree program receive direct entry into the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine program at St. George's University School of Veterinary Medicine upon completing their bachelor's degree.
- Joint-degree programs allow students to obtain their undergraduate and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degrees in six or seven years combined.
- Partnerships are with highly reputable institutions throughout the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom.