

Number of Written Course Examinations in the Basic Sciences

In a 16 to 18-week term, there should be no less than 3, and no more than 6 written course examinations, which can be either modular or comprehensive. A 6 to 9-week term should have no less than 2 (typically a mid-term and a final) and no more than 3 written course examinations.