

ELEC 512 : Special Topics in Fish Medicine and Surgery

Students participate through practical clinical experience and perform a variety of medical and surgical techniques.

Students master the art of clinical examination, disease diagnosis, surgical and therapeutic approaches for fish species. Appropriate emphasis is placed on species-specific behavioral and physiological adaptations.

Core Course

Credits 1