

SAMS 530 : Critical Reasoning in Veterinary Medicine

This course will provide students with the opportunity to integrate information from other courses through utilization the clinical reasoning approach. Case reports or clinical scenarios will be presented to students using the clinical reasoning approach. Students will professionally communicate and will create relevant differential diagnosis lists, diagnosis plans, treatment plans, and/or other clinical case management components as specified.

Core Course

Credits 1