

BUSI 892 : Comm in Cross-Cultural Environ

This course provides an integrated approach to managerial and business communication. Students are introduced to interpersonal and organizational theory and concepts and learn skills in writing, listening, speaking, and non-verbal communications. Students will apply data, theory, and skills to issues, negotiations and crisis situations in order to gain insights into their own-and others'- communication styles and become more effective managers.

Core Course