

ACCT 103 : Intro to Financial Accounting

A course in accounting basics that is geared towards students without prior exposure to accounting. This course is designed to provide a general introduction to financial accounting as practiced by business entities in the world. Students should be able to understand the language of financial statements by the end of the semester.

Core Course