

ACCT 351 : Managerial Accounting

In this course, students acquire in-depth understanding of management accounting within an organization in planning and controlling operations and decision making. Topics covered include cost analysis, systems design, cost behavior, absorption, variable costing methods, and profit planning.

Core Course