

BIOL 407 : Senior Internship

The capstone junior/senior internship for marine biology and wildlife & conservation biology students provides an opportunity for these students to utilize their field skills and their newly acquired knowledge in a professional working environment.

Core Course