

BUSI 324 : Consumer Behaviour

This course provide students with the conceptual frameworks, theories, and models of consumer behavior as a tool to analyze the actions and decision-making processes of individuals and organizations involved in acquiring and consuming products and services in the marketing environment.

Core Course