

BUSI 404 : Research Methods in Business

This course will focus on different selected topics of particular relevance to the national, regional and global economy and other research interest. Additionally, this course will highlight the importance of systematic research and problem solving and explore the different types of research methodologies.

Core Course