

NURS 213 : Comm & Pop Based Hlth & Pract

This course introduces the student to the profession of nursing as a practice discipline. The development of caring, communication and critical thinking skills with individuals of varying age groups in a variety of settings will be fostered.

Core Course