

NURS 326 : Collab & Comm in Healthcare

This course will introduce the student to the concept of inter professional collaborative practice and the evidence base that supports its effectiveness. The student will learn how to communicate and work within a team and how to positively influence team working.

Core Course