

PSYC 206 : Psyc of Personality Theories

This course is an introduction to the major theories of personality, along with the examination of the impact of history, social origins, culture, and significant individuals upon the area of personality development. This course examines psychoanalysis, Neo-Freudian, transactional analysis, and Gestalt Therapy. Cognitive and contemporary will also be highlighted.

Core Course