

Post-Examination Review by Faculty

After each examination, the Course Director calls a meeting of teaching faculty to review the overall examination statistics and item analysis, together with student review feedback, before making final decisions on the validity and reliability of the test and each of the test items.