

Bachelor of Science/MD

Students who enter the University during the first or second year of the preclinical program may earn a bachelor's degree upon acceptance into and completion of their first year of the four-year Doctor of Medicine degree program