

SAMS 537 : Small Animal Clinical Nutrition

This course provides students with advanced training in small animal clinical nutrition through the use of lecture, labs, and clinical case discussions. Clinical nutritional management of common disorders of dogs and cats and integration of nutrition with medical and surgical treatment modalities will be a focus. Prerequisite: ANPH 502

Core Course

Credits 1